

ABSTRACT

This paper takes brief account of the state of affairs of the Indian power sector and of concerns that have prompted various steps taken by the central and the state governments for the development of the sector and the reforms that have taken place in the Indian electricity sector. The paper also discusses major issues faced by the Indian electricity industry such as inadequate pricing policies, lack of demand management, excessive State intervention etc.