

ABSTRACT

Primary education is the foundation on which the development of every citizen and the nation as a whole built on. India's improved education system is often cited as one of the main contributors to the economic development of India. At the same time, the quality of elementary education in India has also been a major concern. This analysis is expected to provide results that give a meaningful insight on the status of public and private schools in India. Analysis done here has been done on several different heads, which are considered to be the essential factors that might be necessary for identifying why there is a disparity between enrolment in Private and government Schools. Finally, in order to be aware of progress towards universal elementary education, effective assessment and monitoring systems need to be in place is suggested in the analysis.
